

Charlotte Cuthbertson to join Tyndall Partnerships Investment Committee

Boutique wealth and fund manager Tyndall Investment Management is further strengthening its Tyndall Partnerships Investment Committee with the appointment of Charlotte Cuthbertson who brings eight years' industry experience and a particular expertise in investment company analysis.

Charlotte recently joined Asset Value Investors (AVI) as co-manager of MIGO Opportunities Trust, providing continuity to its shareholders. She previously worked as a fund manager at Tyndall for a short time, joining from Premier Miton where she was an assistant fund manager responsible for the Worldwide Opportunities Fund and MIGO Opportunities Trust prior to its transfer to AVI. She was formerly the firm's environmental, social and governance analyst.

Tyndall Partnerships works with independent financial advisers (IFAs) to provide tailored investment solutions that meet the long-term financial objectives of their clients. The Tyndall Investment Committee was formed in July and includes James Clunie and Peter Geikie-Cobb. It provides additional specialist expertise and objectivity to complement Tyndall's in-house team, led by James Sullivan.

James Sullivan, head of Tyndall Partnerships, said, "During her time at Tyndall, Charlotte clearly demonstrated her deep knowledge of the investment company sector as well as the highest levels of professionalism and integrity. As such, we can say with confidence that she will be an invaluable additional resource for the Tyndall Partnerships Investment Committee. Her expertise is an excellent complement to Peter and James's specialist insight and will help ensure the highest levels of governance and investment oversight for our clients."

Charlotte Cuthbertson said, "While at Tyndall, I witnessed firsthand the robust processes and expert asset allocation that underpins Tyndall Partnerships' services to IFAs. I look forward to my continued involvement with the firm, working with James Sullivan, his team and my fellow members of the Investment Committee to deliver bespoke investment solutions to adviser clients."
